

Five excellent pairs, broken in to harness
Four mares, broken to saddle and harness
They are worth the inspection judges.
Will be sold without reserve

£100,000 or £200,000 not be raised at once, if necessary, for the importation of the requisite amount of labour to carry on the work, on the consideration that the Company should be allowed to select whatever land it might choose to fix on, up to a certain specific amount, at the minimum price of one pound per acre, along the whole line?

along the whole line." "I am not at all labouring you must pay for it by raising the requisite funds in the colony, to enable you to import the labourers you require. To look for it in any other way, under existing circumstances, is out of the question. Lord John Russell has offered an emigration loan for the colony; and, as things are at present, I cannot say I am sorry for it: if for a loan were granted, it would be in all likelihood be expended in the purchase of land, and the raising of the following character of the population of the South of Ireland at the present moment, as drawn by an Irish Peer in a letter to the Times of the 5th instant, I confess I have no wish to see the character of the population of the South of Ireland, as the Irish Peer, "the Government," says the landlords, are both constituted by the excess of knavery exhibited by the lower classes: THEY ARE DEGENERATED TO A DEGREE, AND ARE THE MOST VULGAR OF THE WORLD." Surely these are not the right people to colonise with at all events.

Finding there was no prospect of promoting emigration to the colony in the way I have indicated, especially in the peculiar circumstances and condition of this country, I occupied my leisure time in writing the two volumes on the press the two volumes on the colony I had written on my way home, viz., "the Philippines," and the "Port Phillip Country; and Cooksland," or the Moreton Bay Country; and the "New South Wales." The latter of the two describes the country to the northward of the 30th parallel of south latitude, which I consider the future and only proper boundary of the colony; and the northward of the 30th parallel of south latitude is of our vast territory after its discovery, Captain Cook, who surely well deserves some such honour at our hands. And I consider I have rendered a very important service to my country by the delivery of the trade from the capabilities of this interesting tract of country for the growth of cotton and sugar of quality by means of European free labour. I published a fourth prospectus having for its special object in view the introduction of a large number of the Moreton Bay Country, in the city of Manchester, and I have since been endeavoring, both there and here, to induce the cotton-raisers to take an interest in the object in view, and to deliver their trade from the present state of vassalage under the slaveholders of America, and also to hasten on the emancipation of the American negro. For as I have beyond all doubt the cotton grown at Moreton Bay is of a very superior quality, and that European labourers can stand the climate with perfect facility, there is no doubt whatever that we shall be able to grow cotton and sugar of equal value to the United States, and perhaps eventually to undersell them in the European market. In short, I consider this the most splendid prospect that ever opened up upon the colony; for the growth of cotton and sugar is of the greatest importance to us than that of wool; for whereas at present the produce of an acre of land appropriated for sheep grazing is only of a half of the value (at present) of 24 lbs. of sugar, and three shillings to ten shillings of a single acre of land under cotton will in all likelihood produce two bales of 300 lbs. each, of which every two pounds will at least be worth one pound of wool. The growth of cotton and cotton affairs, if done in a very light labour, suitable for women and children, the humble emigrant with a large family will I trust be able, ere long, to ship as many bales of cotton as the average origin, for the labour of his own household, of the quantity of animal origin from the produce of thousands of his sheep. There will thus, I hope and trust, be a never-failing demand for our manufactures, and a ready market for our industries, agricultural and pastoral; for cotton is an article of unlimited demand in Europe; and as our soil and climate are obviously adapted to the production of the finest quality of the staple, the first effect of its appearance as cotton growers on the European market will be to lower the price of these descriptions of the article which are at present confined to a very limited tract of the Southern States, and the same effect will be, to accelerate the freedom of the American slave, by rendering the production of cotton no longer profitable to his Republican Lord. This new employment for an agricultural population, which has hitherto been the grand desideratum in the colony; for although in my work I have not recommended the cultivation of cotton any farther than the 30th parallel of south latitude, I am confident that it could be cultivated with perfect success as high as Hunter's River. The latter river is exactly in the same latitude south, as that of Charleston, north, where cotton is cultivated to the greatest advantage in the world; but as a proof that our climate is a much milder, and consequently much better adapted to the constitution of the cotton plant, the orange-tree grows freely at Hunter's River, whereas it will not grow in the same latitude from the frequent and severe frosts. Indeed this severity of the American climate renders the cultivation of cotton a very precarious dependence in the United States, and is actually inducing the emigration of the negroes to the growing of sheep's wool in preference. It is quite fair, therefore, that as they are trespassing upon our run, we should repay them in kind by getting under theirs, or in other words, by getting under theirs run. If, therefore, we should take to the growing of cotton, we should take to the growing of cotton. The opinion given of the sample of Moreton Bay cotton I exhibited here was that it was a very valuable kind, that would readily bring a high price in the market. The president of the Chamber of Commerce at Manchester gave it as his opinion that "in no state of the market in this country would such cotton bring less than a shilling a pound." The opinion of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, and although the present unprecedented calamitous condition of the mother country, and especially of the manufacturing interest in all its departments will not allow of my saying more, telling so speedily as it would otherwise have done on the promotion of emigration to our territory, there can be no doubt whatever that the cultivation of cotton is destined to afford a ready market for our manufactures, and to reduce the redundant population of this country in our various settlements to the northward of Port Macquarie. And if this quiet revolution should take the destined, as I am confident it is, to give the cotton-raisers a very ready market for their produce, one of the most wonderful instances of the wisdom and beneficence of an over-ruled Providence afforded in the history of man.

My object, in directing the attention of the cotton-raisers to the cultivation of cotton, was merely to take advantage of the facility it promised to afford for the promotion of emigration to the Moreton Bay country; as I had been informed that the cotton-raisers were growing so abundantly as to have had to send some of it to the other parts of the territory. But although my demonstrations, as to the character and capabilities of our soil and climate, were as extensive as they could be, and as I have seen a specimen of our produce, carried conviction to the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, and especially to gentlemen both there and in Liverpool, who had been long resident in the cotton-raisers' country, and who had seen the cotton-raisers, the catastrophe that almost immediately thereafter overwhelmed so many of the first houses in that great focus of the manufacturing of Britain precluded the possibility of effecting the introduction of cotton at present through that particular channel in the way of promoting emigration. In these circumstances, as it was of importance alike to the cotton-raisers and the colony, to have the capabilities of our soil and climate in this particular ascertained and demonstrated as speedily as possible beyond the possibility of doubt, I proceeded to London to solicit an interest on the subject. With Mr. Grey, or in his absence with Mr. Hay, Mr. Grey, one of the members for the City, John McGrath, one of the members of the Board of Trade (who I am happy to add takes a warm interest in our cotton-raisers) and Mr. Hay, I had the honor lony, and indeed in all the colonies, and who recognizes the vast importance of the cotton question to Australia), did me the honour to accompany me to Downing-street to press my suit either upon Earl Grey or Mr. Hawes. Unfortunately they were both out of town, but as Mr. Hawes was at Brighton, Mr. McGreor recommended me to proceed strengthened my appeal on the subject, and I addressed him from myself. I had a long interview with Mr. H., in the course of which I stated the reasons of my request, and he admitted anything to be done by the public, either for the cultivation of cotton or for the promotion of emigration to Australia, in the actual calamitous state of affairs, while it was of equal importance to the colony and to the Government to have the facilities of the colony for the production of cotton ascertained and demonstrated as speedily as possible. I was of opinion that that important object might be accomplished with perfect facility and success, in the first instance, with a favourable emigration, either at the letter or the spirit of the established regulations. I proposed, therefore, that if the Government would merely allow one of the emigrants sent by the present Governor, to sail from Glasgow, and to carry out direct to Moreton Bay a hundred families of emigrants, to be selected by me in this vicinity, with a sufficient number of tools and provisions, and Bay-such families to be in every respect conformable to the regulations—I would undertake to send out along with these hundred families, an experienced cotton grower, to the effect of assisting him in the processes requisite for that branch of cultivation, and to find the means of employing them, (at least a large proportion of them) in the growth of cotton on their arrival, on land of the Government, and at the usual minimum price for various gentlemen of high standing and influence, including the President of the Chamber of Commerce at Manchester, had offered to send a vessel of 1000 tons, with a hundred and of fifty pounds each to have his own experiment, which they conceived of national importance, fairly tried. And I informed Mr. H. that if such a party were sent in the first of January next, they would arrive in time enough to secure a crop of cotton, and thereby to establish the capabilities of the soil and climate for this important produce, during the same season, and to give the Government an answer as speedily as possible. Mr. H. recognized both the reasonableness and the importance of my proposal, and anticipated no difficulties in the way of its being carried into effect. He referred to those obstructions the Emigration Commissioners, and after a delay of six weeks I had an answer from Downing-street—evidently more copy of their report—exhibiting so much of the same nature, that I was almost sure the same time gave me to understand that the sending of a ship from Glasgow was unpalatable to the Commissioners, although they had not the readiness to meet the proposal, and that they would not send an answer as an answer at all. So I wrote again to Downing-street, repeating my question, showing its perfect accordance with the letter and spirit of the regulations, and requesting a speedy answer, and that they would send an answer to be sent to the Commissioners like the first, and after other six weeks' delay I shall probably have an answer. In the mean time, however, the period for action has been allowed to pass, and I am now obliged to wait some time now to make the requisite arrangements for testing the character of the colony as a cotton growing country during the year 1848. Since my letter was written, however, Mr. McGregor has been in the colony, and he has, by request, and ascertained from them that they will not send a ship from Scotland on any account: so this settles the matter.

Such then is the manner in which our best interests have been sacrificed, and I am convinced I had a favourable opinion of the Emigration Commissioners when very few in the colony had; but have now had my eyes fairly opened, and I am now convinced that they are in their office, as far as we are concerned, but to their possession of other exceptional qualifications to which I shall leave you to give a name. I had they only possessed the smallest amount of common sense, they would have sent them; they might have had the whole of 5000 emigrants they are now sending out in 10 small dories, landed in Sydney and Melbourne before the 31st of next month, and they would have been able to put them to the test, and to open the colony to the north.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique.

But there is something worse than mere incapacity to comply in that quarter, for it appears there is a small clique of emigration jobbers, together with a few of the most influential persons in the colony, who are in the city of London, to whom the Commissioners have virtually sold both themselves and us! For in defiance of all justice they have limited the sailing of the vessels that are to be sent to the colony to the ports of London and Plymouth; the obvious intention of which is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands of the London clique. I have mentioned, and his obvious intention is to throw the whole business into the hands

in accordance with the wishes of the Committees of the Legislative Council, of which I had the honour to be a member, they would determine to send a fair proportion of emigrants from each of the three kingdoms. My object was simply to make the selection of this proportion of the actual emigration now in progress a means of engrafting upon it as I

[illegible]

TIN PLATES—On sale by the undersigned—Tin Plates, assorted, and at reduced prices.
JOHN MACNAMARA,
Queen-street.

Sheral, a large stock of superior skins; hand allowance to the trade. Apply to Messrs HOPKINS, at Mr. Heydon's, 78, King-street.
6658

OPENING OF THE LONDON
TEA WAREHOUSE,
No. 364, GEORGE-STREET.

NATHONY REYNOLDS, begs to inform his old friends and customers, that he has this day opened the above premises, which are now stocked with general groceries; and having made his purchases during the present depressed market, he is enabled to sell at a great reduction on former prices. Private Families are respectfully solicited to give this house a trial; they may rely on being waited on with civility and despatch, and well as good butter, from a celebrated dairy, on hand. An extensive stock of heavy goods or week, suitable for storekeepers and others.

Sydney, April 14. 6574

CLENNIE BUTTER.—We have this morning supplied Miss Ann E Smith agent for the sale of the Glenlee Butter. Roll, 2 cads per lb., tub 10d per lb.

EDWARD AND W. HOWE, JUN.

NEW ARRIVAL

OF

WINTER GOODS.

JOSEPH THOMPSON N AND SON beg to inform the ladies and the public generally, that they have received their usual assortment of new Goods, consisting of variety, style, and elegance, combined with utility, are not to be surpassed.

The Silk and Shawl department, &c., &c., consists of—Cashmere, and silk shawls
Black, white, and coloured long shawls
Anglo and Saxony shawls ditto
4-8 black satin shawls French Angola plaid scarfs
Honeycomb and polka black satin and watered silk vests
Black satin and watered silk mantillas
Black and coloured gros de mailles and du-capes
Black and coloured satin and satinettes
Black, white, and coloured crapes
Black and coloured silk velvets, a great bargain
Large assortment of bonnet ribbons, brides, and lace matches
Great variety of printed llama de laines and Cashmere dresses, at reduced prices.

Also,

A large lot of black and coloured French mérinos
Australian and Coburg cloths
Coloured Victoria cloths
Black and coloured Orleans and Alpaca ditto
Black and coloured Merinoes
Crimson stripes, and other plaid flannels
Ditto ditto Coburg
4-4, 5-4, 6-4 gait tartans
4-4, 5-4, 6-4 gait tartan ghinghams
The Manchester department they call particularly attention to, having per late arrivals completed their external arrangement. The department consist of—4-4, 5-4, 9-4, 10-4 linen damasks
4 dispers and huckabacks
Linen and undressed hollandas
8-8 and 4-4 Irish linens
Dispers, and cloutings
Printed covers and furniture fringes
4-8, 6-4, 10-4, 10-4 cotton and worsted damask
4-8, 6-4, 10-4 rich embossed and printed covers White, longcloths, in every make 4-8 grey and white sheetings
Black, blue, red, green, and printed cambric, warranted fast colours
Most beautiful musins in Welsh, Saxony, and Linenish flannels
Cambric, stripes, and bed sheets
Fining blue and saddlers' white serges
4-8, 6-4, 10-4, 11-4, and 12-4 super Watney blankets
White and coloured counterpanes
Table quilts, &c.
Aprons, caps, &c.
4-8 and 6-4 osenburghs.

266, Pitt-street.

ORNAMENTAL SHRUBS,

FRANGE AND OTHER FRUIT TREES, &c.
TH. SHEPHERD, Darling Nursery,
Sydney, begs to call the attention of the public to his extensive stock of Ornamental Fruit-bearing Plants.
The following are some of a small portion on which will be found 25 per cent lower than usually charged in the colony:—

IN POTS.

Camellia, a good collection, 2s. 6d. to 4s. 6d.; Citrus aurantium, 1s. to 5s.; Cydonia, five varieties, 1s. to 5s.; Myrica, four varieties, 1s. to 5s.; Magnolia, 1s. 6d. to 3s. 6d.; Castaneasperum (Moreton Bay Chestnut), 2s.; Lophospermum, 1s. to 1s. 6d.; Jambosa vulgaris (rose apple), 2s.; Baeafortia, 1s.; Cereus, 1s.; Calceolaria, 2s.; Hamelia Sphaerocarpa, 2s.; Arbutus, 2s.; Aloysia Citriodora (sweet veronica), 1s.; Ligustrum Lucidum (China privet), 2s.; Mahoeira, 1s.; Jasminum, 1s. to 2s. 6d.; 4-9, 4-12, 10-4, 11-4, 12-4 Geranium, three varieties, 1s. to 3s. 6d.; Robinia, 1s. to 2s.; Legistomatia Regina and Indica, 2s.; Canavalia Bonariensis, 3s. 6d.; Echynanthus Volubilis, 10s.; Cassius, 1s. to 2s. 6d.; 4-9, 4-12, 10-4 Sycaura, Ash, Oak, and Elm, 1s. to 5s.

KERMACEOUS AND EMBULBO PLANTS,

Polegonales, Carnations, Pinka, Picotee, Digitalis, Mimulus, Heliotropus, Penstemonus, Primula, Salvia, Verbena, Clerodendrum, Pelargonium, Dianthus, Lavender, Marigold, Lobelia Cardinalis, 1s. 6d.
Alpinia, 1s.; Hedychium, 1s.; Cannas, 1s.; Thunbergias, five varieties, 1s. to 2s. 6d.
Geraniaceae, four varieties, 1s. to 3s.; Geronies, four varieties, 1s. to 2s. 6d.; Achimenes, six varieties, 1s.; Iria, 1s. to 2s. 6d.; Crinum, 1s. to 1s. 6d.; Amyallia, 1s. to 2s. 6d.; Tigridia, 1s. to 2s.; Lilien, 1s. to 2s.; Mulberry, 1s.; Buddleja, 1s.; Syringa, Nar-ciaceous, Watsonia, 1s. to 5s.; Persea, 1s. to 2s.; a great variety of others, too numerous to mention, at prices equally low.

FRUIT TREES.

Instant Apple, in pots, 2s.; Guava, yellow and purple, 1s.; Orange, 1s. 6d.; Ficus, four varieties, 1s. to 5s.; Citrus, 1s. 6d. to 3s. 6d.; Lemona, Lime, Curcua, and Shaddock, 1s. to 2s. 6d.; Peach, Plum, Apricot, Cherry, Neectarine, Quince, Medlar, and Pear, 1s.; Mulberry, 1s.; Blueberry, 1s.; Fibbera, 1s. each, 10s. per dozen; Age, 9d. to 1s. 6d.

collections of Indigenous Seeds always ready for sale.
All orders punctually attended to and carefully packed.

N.B.—Printed catalogues may be had, upon application at the Nursery.

Darling Nursery,
Newtown Road,
Sydney.

SADDLERY WAREHOUSE,
Brickfield-hill,
To Saddlers, Harness-makers, and the Trade
in general.
MRS. BINNIE begs to remind the trade that she has received a large assortment of Saddlers' Ironmongery, and

[illegible]

CAMDEN BUTTER, CAMDEN BUTTER.
THE undersigned begs respectfully to acquaint families that he is appointed sole agent for the Camden Butter, and he would be happy to deliver it at any part of the town, if favoured with an order.

also, Wollongong best salt butter, and 350, George-street, opposite the Market.
 356 THOMAS JONES

GIG FOR SALE.
TO BE SOLD—A very serviceable Gig, nearly new, and well worthy the attention of any person requiring a safe and comfortable conveyance. Apply at SKINNER'S HOTEL, George and Hunter-streets. 6742

FOR SALE, a billiard table, marking boards, balls, cues, racks, and gastings, complete. Apply at No. 163, Elizabeth-street. 6798

JAMES BARBER'S STORES, EAST ARLAND.
TO be disposed of with immediate possession, the Lease and Stock-in-Trade, very advantageous terms; the business a prosperous one, and the situation first-rate;
 with a good family house; the whole well adapted for any respectable person with a sufficient means, wishing to commence in a country store. 6602

TO be disposed of by Private Contract, the good wares, fixtures, fittings, and furniture of that old and highly respected Private Boarding Establishment, well known as Park House, possessing all the advantages an airy, retired, and yet central situation, the present proprietor, the present proprietor being about to retire to the Country, after Monday, 17th instant, the House can be removed between the hours of 11 and 4.

WANTED, a Married Couple, to proceed to Sydney Bay. The man must have a thorough knowledge of everything connected with a bark, the woman of all sorts of household work. Respectable references will be required.
 Apply at Park House, Park-street.
 April 12. 6189

WOOL AND SHEEPSKINS.
THE Undersigned are cash purchasers of fine and unwashed wools and sheepskins; or, will make advances on wools assigned to Messrs. Armitage Brothers.
 J. T. ARMITAGE, & CO.
 533

WOOL AND SHEEPSKINS.
THE Undersigned are cash buyers of Wool and Sheepskins, either washed or the grease; or will make liberal advances on consignments to their house in England.
 SWAIN, WEBBS, AND CO.
 533 Harrington-street, Church-hill.

WOOL, &c.—The undersigned is a Cash buyer of Wool; or will make advances on Wool, or Produce, consigned to his store in England.
 Wools re-packed and sold in bulk.
 THOMAS HOLT, Jew.
 136, George-street South.

THE undersigned are cash purchasers
 of Wool, Sheepskins, and Horse Hides.
 THOMAS HALL AND CO.
 No. 166, Castlereagh-street and Hyde Park.
 4667

BARLEY—The undersigned are purchasers of good samples of Malting Barley, at market prices.
 ROBERT AND EDWIN TOOTH.
 143

CHICKEN TALLOW.—Persons
 having first quality Station Tallow, will obtain the highest market price from WM. B. ALLEN,
 135 Sussex-street, Sydney.

£1200.—To be Lent, the above sum, at a moderate of interest, on unexceptionable City securities. For particulars apply to Mr. T.
 SWART, George-street, on or before the 14th instant. 6687

£2000 To be Lent on Mortgage.
 For the advertiser's address
 apply at the Herald Office.
 April 17. 6684

IN THE INSOLVENT ESTATE OF JOHN TOOTH.
MEETING of the Creditors of the above estate will be held at the offices of the undersigned, on TUESDAY, the 18th instant, at 2 o'clock, to take into consideration various matters connected with the estate.
 GEORGE KING,
 Official Assignee.
 397, Pitt-street, April 14. 6611

SHIP HERALD.
CONSIGNEES of the following goods are requested to produce Bills of Lading in time, this day, or they will be deemed Campbell's Wharf at their risk and expense:—
 Rutledge and Co., 1 case
 George Jenkins, 1 ditto
 Pattison, 1 ditto
 Hunt, 2 ditto
 H. Nauvre, 1 ditto
 R. T. FORD,
 8, Bridge-street.
 April 16, 17th April. 6681

PASSENGERS for TASMANIA to Auckland are requested to be on board at 4 o'clock, Monday, 17th instant, as the proceeds to sea this evening.
 TUCKER, LINGARD, AND CO.,
 Agents.
 Deloitte's Wharf, April 17. 6616

NOTICE.—The undersigned requests all claims against him to be forwarded on or before 17th instant, to the offices of Mr.
 George King, No. 397, Pitt-street.
 P. J. CRRAGE.
 Sydney, April 12. 6613

NOTICE.—All persons are hereby cautioned against removing or purchasing any cattle or horses, or the produce or thereof, from off the Stations or Runs of the "Clutha," or "Merrit River," District of Bath, known as Merrit's Station, and situate in the property of the undersigned.
 Executors of the late Robert Thomson,
 of the said District.
 GEO. RATTRAY, } Executors of the ARCH. MITCHELL, } late R. Thomson.
 B.B.—The names of the stations are "Erin-nasser," "Warrana," and "Boorandaa."
 All persons are at present under the charge of Mr.
 Thomas Goodall.
 6661

NOTIFICATION.—I hereby caution any person from hiring or employing Joseph Harrison, my hired servant, under an agreement to serve me as labourer, in the business of a potter, from the 4th day of September, 1877, for the term of two years from that date, having absented himself from my employment without my permission; and any person hiring or employing the said Joseph Harrison will be proceeded against for so doing.
 THOMAS FIELD, Potter.
 George-street South.
 7

HOPMAN WANTED.—Applications
 in the handwriting of the parties alone to be attended to; address E. D., care of DIXON, Tobaccoist, George-street.
 No. 18-B.—If by post they must be pre-paid.
 6749

ABLE SEAMEN.—Wanted, for the barque William, a few able seamen;
 those that have been accustomed to stock will be preferred.
 6736

JOHN CROWEYMAN BAKERS.
 Wanted to proceed, per steamer Tamar,
 to the Port Phillip, a sober steady Journeyman Baker, to whom liberal wages and a free passage to the Port Phillip is offered.
 Apply to the Agent, immediately.
 6750

WANTED, permanent Board and Lodgings, in a quiet and respectable private family, by a single gentleman; or a bedroom with the accommodation of a sitting room and attendance. Address X. Y. Z., with full particulars, at the Herald Office.

THE OLD ESTABLISHED
SERVANTS' REGISTRY OFFICE
No. 319,
NORTH CASTLERAGH-STREET, PROVIDES Families in Town and Country with efficient Servants in every department. MALE and FEMALE, Single married; affords SERVANTS the most eligible opportunities of obtaining respectable positions, renders them advice, assistance, and protection, and furnishes small loans, for finite periods, at a moderate interest.
All applications to be addressed to the undersigned.
J. FRIDDERICK JOHNSON.
WANTED, an experienced Nurse, who can be well recommended. Apply to
S. CURWEN BOYD, the Point, Woolloomooloo.
WANTED, a young woman, as Cook and in the Household, in a small family, to be placed at Woolloomooloo. Characters required at the Herald Office.
WANTED, a good Cook, who thoroughly understands his business, a colonial agent. Apply at Smith's Fish Registry Office, Hunter-street, Sydney.
WANTED, a Man Servant to attend to a Horse and do plain cooking, &c.; Female Servants as Landresses and to assist housework; also, a respectable Young Woman as Nursemaid. Apply at the residence of J. HINN, Macquarie-street, top of King-street.
SHEPHERDS AND HUTKEEPERS
wanted, to be sent to MOUNTAIN RANGERS
No. 21, at a year, and station of 10 lbs. tea, 10 lbs. flour, 2 lbs. sugar, and 1 lb. tea,
weekly. Apply to E. W. LAYTON AND CO.,
George-street.
GARDENER AND LAUNDRESS.
Wanted about a mile from the City, a man and his wife—as a GARDENER and LAUN-DRESS. Apply to W. H. ALDIS.
WANTED, a man to work in a garden, and to make himself generally useful. Apply at the Herald Office.
JUNIOR TEACHER.
THE friends of a Young Lady, who has been taught Music, Drawing, &c., desirous of placing her in a Ladies' Seminary in Sydney, where she may have her education as a JUNIOR TEACHER will send her commutation for her board and lodging, and improvement of her own education. Apply (if by letter post-paid), to E. D. Mr. own's, Confectioner, Pitt-street.
Lady competent to teach Music,
French, and the usual branches of English Education, wishes to engage as daily teacher. Address post-paid, to Mrs. GORDON,
No. 11, Pitt-street.
TWO POUNDS REWARD.—Stolen
or strayed from Barrabaden Station, Barrabaden District, a dark brown horse,
about sixteen hands high, rising four years, switch tail, near hind foot white, branded near shoulder. Whoever delivers the said horse to JOHN BROWN, at Barrabaden, will receive the above reward.
JOHN BROWN.
ONE POUND REWARD.—Stolen
or strayed on the 4th of March last, a black horse, branded AB near shoulder, IF
of shoulder. The above reward will be given by the undersigned to any person who can give information that will lead to the recovery of the above horse.
ROBERT SMALLHORNE.
One pound.
ONE POUND REWARD.—Lost, a silver snuff box, with the initials of the owner, C.F.A. on the lid. Whoever returns and the above box by taking it to Messrs.
HARRIS AND CO., Lower George-street, will receive the above reward.
FOUND, on the Bathurst Road, a Sum of Money, the loser identifying the same can gain information by applying to Mr.
J. M. C. WHITE, Storekeeper, Bathurst.
NO MERCHANTS AND OTHERS.
The commodious residence and premises of Mr. A. SILLIMON, opposite St. James's CHURCH, replete with every comfort and convenience, consisting of dining and breakfast rooms on the ground floor, two very handsome bedrooms, six rooms next door, and second storeys, (including drawing-rooms, &c.) together with three excellent Cellars, detached kitchens, &c.
They are admirably adapted besides for a "Winter" Chambers, Solicitors' or Storekeepers' offices, or any occupation requiring extensive accommodation, &c.
Apply to Mr. STUBBS, at the Mart, King-street; or on the Premises, between the hours of 10 and 12, on any day.
Sydney, February 21.
NO CAPITALISTS.—Balmain and
City Property for sale.
O'LEARY, House and Store, or part of either. For particulars apply to Mr.
O'LEARY, Kent-street North.
NO LET, of one Mr. Young's Houses, in Cumberland place, Sydney. Rent
a-week, six pounds per annum. Apply to Mr.
Young, Cumberland place.
NO LET—The Cottage adjoining Captain ANTHONY'S, Kent-street North;
how apply.
FAMILY RESIDENCE, BALMAIN.
To be let, with immediate possession, delightful and healthful premises just vacated by Captain MONTAGUE, situated in the suburb of Balmain, containing entrance hall, drawing, and thirteen other rooms,
bath, store rooms, and servants' offices,
kitchen, well of excellent water, garden,
hard, paddock, stable, coachhouse, and veranda, with every comfort and convenience for a respectable family. For cards to view apply to ROBERT'S, Estate Agent, Bank of Australia buildings.
NO LET.—Rose Bay Cottage and Grounds, Cleveland House and Grounds; a few Swamps near the City boundaries, suitable for Market Gardeners, and other property, all of which the latter will let at a nominal rental to good tenants. Apply
Mr. James COOPER, Enghelam, Glenmore road, the second gate from Mr. Cape's 6521.
NO LET, at Newtown, a good Veranda Cottage, containing four lofty rooms, entrance hall, kitchen, and servants' room, with garden ground.
Three smaller Houses; also adjoining in all, two acres of land, one half at present under cultivation—standing open to be taken at any valuation. Enquire of JOSEPH BIR, 194,
George-street.
THE MONTPELLIER ESTATE,
NEAR PICTON.
Containing 1000 Acres, Fencing and Improvements.
TENDERS will be received by the undersigned from persons desirous of purchasing the above mentioned valuable farm, by tender to be received by JAMES ROBERTS,
Bank of Australia Buildings.

This image shows a vertical strip of a document page. The right side features a dark, heavily textured binding edge, likely made of wood or a similar material, showing significant wear and grain. The left side is a lighter, possibly blank or heavily faded page area, with some faint, illegible markings and a few small dark spots. The overall appearance is that of an old, worn book or document.

